

The Chester Telegraph is seeking an editor/writer who can manage its calendar of events and write a lively weekly column about local happenings.

The candidate should have a good knowledge of English, of spelling and grammar and either a familiarity with the WordPress content management system or a willingness and ability to learn a few computer functions and some coding.

This is a great position for a professional retiree who is seeking a creative outlet or anyone wishing to supplement their income.

This is a freelance position. After training, the editor would work from home on their own schedule and with their own computer, while meeting a deadline. The previous editor, who was with us for six years, averaged 24 hours per month.

Hourly wage commensurate with ability.
